

RENCONTRES ÉGÉENNES INTERNATIONALES INTERNATIONAL AEGEAN CONFERENCES

28th July 2017

Dear Colleague,

You have submitted a proposal for a paper for the 17th International Aegean Conference/17<sup>e</sup> Rencontre égéenne internationale, to be held in Venice and Udine on 17-21 April 2018 on the theme MNEME, and we thank you for your interest in the conference.

Due to the high number of proposals that have been received, the Organizing Committee has met in Venice on May 18 and has decided to accept 82 oral presentations that are directly connected with the theme of the conference, as defined in the first circular. We regret very much to have to impose such a limitation of the number of papers, but this is the only way to accommodate the contributions within the five days of the conference, and to make at least some discussion possible.

The topic that you have offered has been considered to be in direct connection with the theme of the conference and has been accepted as a poster presentation, the practical conditions of which will be specified on the Web site of the conference in the next months (<http://mneme-aegeum-17.uniud.it/>). The Web page will provide also useful information on the organization of the conference and on your stay and accommodation in Venice as soon as it is available. It will regularly be updated.

Your paper will be published in the proceedings of the Rencontre, to appear in the series Aegaeum. Annales liégeoises et PASPiennes d'archéologie égéenne. Instructions for publication will be given on the Web site in due time as well.

We thank you once again for your interest in MNEME and for your valuable contribution and we stay at disposal for additional questions you would have.

Yours sincerely,

Elisabetta BORGNA
